COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES
HELD AT MAJESTIC BEFORE
LARGE AUDIENCE

ADDRESS BY DR. BRYAN

Excellent Music Given By High School Orchestra

The exercises of the Thirty-sixth Annual Commencement of the Seymour High School were held at the Majestic Thursday evening, before one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the opera house. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity with the friends of the graduating class and citizens who were interested in the progress and advancement of the public schools.

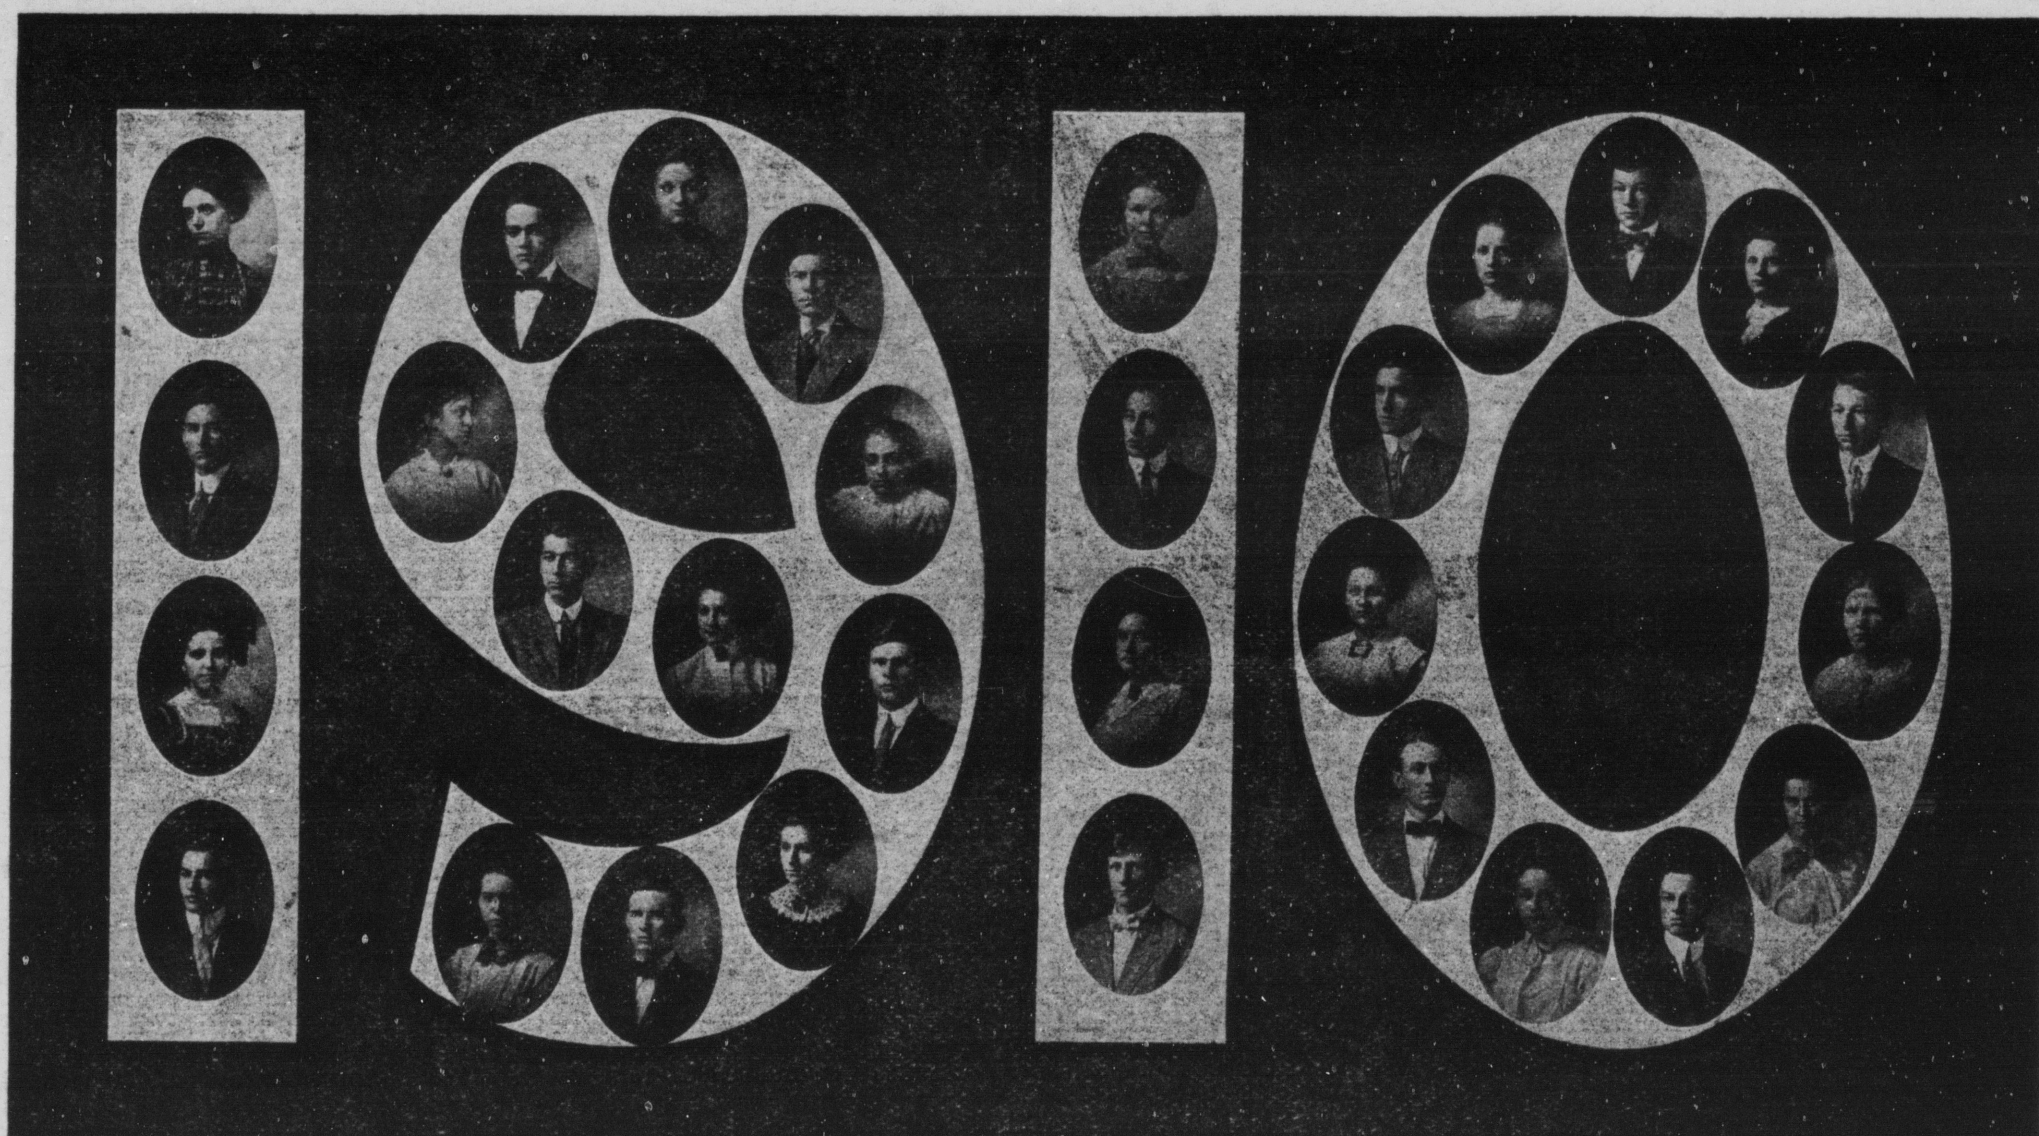

The members of the Senior Class, who last night completed their high school course were: Flossie Collins Allen, Florence Hazel Appel, Ada Margaret Cordes, Forest Field Craig, Lemuel E. Day, Homer George Davis, Edna Mae Dobbins, Frances Fisher Gates, Enola Mae Harris, Emma Henrietta Heuser, Linden C. Hodapp, Lillian Mae Kelley, Alma Emelia Laupus, Myra Trenna Laupus, Elsie Mae Lawell, Cash McOscar, Christine Julia Meyer, Merrill Moores Montgomery, Frances Izan Murdock, Louis H. Niemeyer, Clara Fern Ritter, Elsie Rucker, Frank J. Schwab, Joseph Allen Swope, Frances May Teckemeyer, Harold Arthur Veshlage, Blaine Doane Vogel, Franklin V. Wheeler, Bernice White and Rex Mervin Whitson.

The invocation was given by the Rev. F. M. Huckleberry, pastor of the First Baptist church. The music furnished by the high school orchestra was excellent and was highly complimented.

The class address was given by Miss Flossie Allen, the valedictorian, who spoke with much ease and grace. Her subject was "True Nobleness."

"Friends and Teachers—I bring you greeting from the Class of 1910. During these years of school life we have had our ambitions and our ideals. As we toiled and struggled this day has ever been in view. Now, that this ideal has been reached, we must look beyond, into greater vistas, to seek other ideals. "The one end in accordance with which our lives should be formed, is true nobleness. Our school days here are but a link in the chain of the Past, Present and the greater Future. In a chain each link must be perfect or the chain is useless. So in the chain of every existence each link must be sound or that life will be of little value. Let us, then, put into our lives that which will strengthen us and make us strong and active for good. We should keep before us our class motto: 'Be What You Seem to Be.' But, we should also realize its incompleteness and never forget that what we seem to be and what we really are should be as noble as it is possible for us to make it. We should be what we seem to be. We should pretend nothing, for hypocrisy is always detestable, but behind mere appearance. There should be that state of existence in our inner selves which is as pure and noble as we can make it. Sometimes that for which we strive seems to be so far away, so ideal, that we cannot grasp it. As we look toward it and strive in our feeble way to reach it, suddenly it becomes real to us; it descends from the Ideal to the Actual and behold, what we longed to be is ours. The Ideal has become the Actual. Even as Ernest, gazing day after day on the beauty and nobility of the Great Stone Face, finally himself bore in his own countenance a resemblance to it, so we grow into the likeness of what we admire. Then let us keep our eyes on our ideals until our characters bear witness to them. "Sincerity of character is an aspiration that we all want to realize, but along with sincerity there should be growth, a taking in of what is best for us, a giving out of what is best for others and without this our lives must be poor, indeed. The stately oak in the forest toils on year after year, stretching its arms farther to the sunlight at every breath. The tiny violet pushes its way through the clay, working and toiling on day after day, until, at length a tiny deep blue face looks into the light. In much the same way our characters must grow. Only by untiring efforts and patient endeavor can we hope to gain the longed-for end. Everything grows through activity, and so must we. Let us show by our efforts and acts that our inner state is what it should be.

"We may seem to fall many times and effort seem to our discouraged selves useless. Yet may not our seeming failure be our success? 'What we aspired to be' and yet failed to become in spite of hard effort, may yet comfort us. We can try again. We can still toil on, eager to gain another foothold; never wavering, but keeping our eyes fixed on a goal. Even though our deeds but dimly reveal our aspirations, it is worth while. What the world can easily lay hands on and appreciate is not the important thing. All of our aspirations, our unfinished purposes (and intents, our ideals even though but faintly voiced, are steps in the development of our characters and will be taken for their true worth by God, even though ignored by the world.

"But we must not forget that an aspiration alone can yield us nothing. Hand in hand with an ideal there must be work. There is glory and honor to a man who has done a good work. We may meet with defeats, discouragements and even failures, but let us

"Strive, and hold cheap the strain, Learn, nor account the pang, Dare, never grudge the throe." "Let us follow our motto. Let us be sincere. Let us be what we seem to be but let us

"Be noble! and the nobleness that lies in other men, sleeping, but never dead, Will rise in majesty to meet our own; Then will we see it gleam in many eyes. Then will pure life around our paths be shed, And we shall never more be sad and lone."

The commencement address was delivered by Dr. W. L. Bryan, president of Indiana University, who chose for his subject, "Work." He said that work was learned by means of play. This is true in animal life, except the lowest type, as well as in the case of children. Aptly illustrating, the said that tiger kittens learn to fight by first playing, and that other animals get ready for their work through play. A girl will follow her mother who is sweeping and imitate her; the child will learn to do the same kind of work although at the time she considers it play. The same is true of a small boy, who, in the spirit of play accompanies his father to the office, store or shop. All the time the boy is becoming familiar with the business or profession of his father and learning how to work in that particular line. It is natural for a child to play and while his time is so occupied he is preparing himself for his future life.

A man should get the habit of work. His life will not only be more successful, but happier, when he has some specific purpose in view. Every man should prepare himself for one line of work. The importance of this is realized by many kings and emperors of European countries, who apprentice their sons to tradesmen that they might learn some trade. The men who do not have anything to employ their minds are the kind that become tramps and wanderers.

Failure is often due to the want of the habit of work. An illustration was given by the speaker of a young man who had an unusually brilliant mind and had all the advantages for a successful career, but who, from present indications would be a failure in life because he did not work. He usually made the required grades in his college work, but as he had never acquired the habit of work he lost much of the real benefit of his college education. He related the story of the millionaire's son, who had never been required to work. The young man, however, secured a position on a vessel and started upon an ocean voyage. Before the ship reached its destination it was wrecked and the young millionaire found himself adrift. He was finally picked up by a stranger and taken ashore. The young man told him that he was very wealthy and if he would allow him to go he would be made independently rich. The stranger doubted the story and kept him for six years, during which time he was required to perform very laborious duties. Finally, the young fellow succeeded in escaping and returned home to his parents, who sympathized with him because he had been required to work so hard. The son told his parents that his experience had been a great benefit to him and had shown him the necessity of acquiring the habit of work.

Many illustrations were used by the speaker, and his address was followed with the closest attention.

Address of Superintendent Linke.

Prof. J. A. Linke, superintendent of the public schools, made a strong address, emphasizing the importance of co-operation between the parents and teachers. He said that the best results could be obtained in this manner. The whims and notions of the pupils should not always be taken into consideration, but the work planned for the best interest of the pupil.

The speaker stated that a boy did not reach his majority until he was twenty-one years of age; he was not permitted to vote until that time, because it was believed that he was not at the age of responsibility until he was twenty-one. This illustration was used to show that the school work should be arranged by older people, who had more experience and was better able to plan the work needed.

The school should stand for certain things besides a specified course of studies. It should be a means of character development. The boy or girl who has completed his high school course should have a better standard of deportment than ever before. They should have a better meaning of honesty and feel in a deeper way the importance of right living.

The school should develop certain traits in the character of the pupil. For instance, a study of algebra should make a student more careful.

Professor Linke congratulated the class upon the victory they had won, having overcome all the obstacles that have confronted them during their years of school life. He said it was, indeed, a great thing to have finished the course, and that they were in a position entirely different from that pupil who had failed to complete the work.

Miss Kate Andrews, principal of the high school, presented the diplomas to the members of the graduating class, with appropriate remarks.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. L. A. Winn, pastor of the Central Christian church.

IMPORTANT CASE ON TRIAL.

John Kissell Charged With Violating Pure Food Law.

The case of the State vs. John Kissell, of Salt Creek township, for violating the pure food laws, which was tried before Judge Congdon here a few weeks ago at the city building and resulted in a hung jury, is being tried at Crothersville this afternoon before Squire Hamaker. Prosecutor Oren O. Spails is representing the State and A. C. Branaman is looking after the interests of the defendant. Kissell is charged with selling impure butter to Frank Roemmell, a former clerk at the Teckemeyer grocery.

The case has been attracting considerable attention. Samples of the butter were at the other trial, but it is said that the State introduced no evidence to show just what the analysis of the butter showed. It is stated that the jury stood eleven to one for conviction at the former trial.

Defendants in Vogel Case File Motion
in Bartholomew Circuit Court.

The defendants in the case of John L. Vogel, et al, against Emma C. Vogel, et al, have filed a motion in the Bartholomew circuit court asking for retrial of that case. The case was recently tried in that court, having been venue from the Jackson circuit court, and a verdict given in favor of the plaintiffs.

The case involves real estate located in this city to the value of $6,000. The plaintiffs claim title to the property under a will and the defendants under a marriage contract. Judge Hacker will probably rule upon the motion for a new trial during the present term of court.

He attempted to jump from the front car of a freight train across to the water tank when, in some manner, his foot slipped and he fell, striking in such a way as to break a rib and injure his arm. Fortunately, the train was not in motion at the time. He was brought here on the noon train and taken to his home on Ewing street.

MAYOR GAYNOR CREATES SCENE

Glves Newspaper Men Something Not On Bills.

HE POURS IT INTO MR. HEARST

In Charging Big Publisher With Felonious Practice New York's Mayor Starts a Rough House in Newspaper Banquet in the Waldorf and Stirs Things Up in a Quite Unprecedented Way For Such a Gathering.

New York, April 29.—The joint banquet committee of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers' association in their invitation to Mayor Gaynor to be the guest of honor at their annual dinner last night at the Waldorf-Astoria, told the mayor they wanted him to speak freely and unreservedly. He went to the dinner with a carefully prepared speech in which he said that William

MAYOR GAYNOR.

R. Hearst was guilty of two state prison felonies, forgery and falsification of a public record. He charged the proprietor of the Journal and the American with printing on April 15 a photograph of a draft for $48,000 drawn to the order of Daniel F. Cohalan of Tammany Hall, the date of which had been left off, with the idea of discounting the Gaynor administration. The instant he concluded his slow, emphatic reading of one of the most savage speeches ever fired off in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf, and, impassive and tight-lipped as usual, resumed his seat by Toastmaster Nat C. Wright of the Cleveland Leader, and Melville E. Stone of the Associated Press, up jumped Thomas T. Williams, publisher of the Evening Journal and a close personal friend of Hearst's. Pale with rage and swinging his fists within three feet of Mayor Gaynor's nose, Williams demanded to be heard in defense of Hearst.

There were 700 men in the banquet room, editors and publishers from all over the United States. The balcony boxes bloomed like a flower garden with the brilliant gowns of the women guests. Before Tom Williams exploded out of his chair, the dinner had been serene, the calm broken only by the popping of champagne corks or by the laughter that followed Nat Wright's jokes. With the uprising of the big and angry Williams, the whole scene changed. Angry or indignant or excited or merely curious, half of the 700 pushed forward, while in the boxes the women were shivering with excitement. There was a steady roar of voices over which Williams's shouts rose high. The banqueters tried to yell him down. Toastmaster Wright pleaded with him. Mr. Stone consulted with Mayor Gaynor, who shook his head, showing no more emotion than a stone man. Oscar, manager of the hotel, was sent for. House detectives flocked in. There were cries for the police. Williams could not be budged. For half an hour he faced a storm of yells and threats standing in front of the guest table, or on a chair directly in front of Mayor Gaynor. The turmoil was unceasing. Finally Adolph S. Ochs, proprietor of the New York Times, got Williams's consent to speak for him. Not half a hundred people heard Ochs say that since Hearst was not present to speak for himself, and since Mayor Gaynor was a guest of the associations, the mayor could not be answered at that time, but that Mr. Hearst would reply to him later. There were boos and hisses and shouts for a minute or two more, then people calmed back into their chairs, Williams went into the hall to cool off, and things were again peaceful.

NEIGHBORS AT OUTS

Two Mexican Towns Practically Under Martial Rule.

Puebla, Mexico, April 29.—Troops have been ordered to the town of Zapotitan and Santa Cruz to quell trouble that exists between the people of the two towns. The boundaries of the two towns conflict and several hundred men had a pitched battle over the question, resulting in more than a dozen casualties on the two sides. The troops will disarm the opposing factions and arrest the leaders of the uprising.

CAUSES DEBILITY.

Here are Facts Backed up by a Strong Guarantee.

Catarrah causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarrah. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrah. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Muc-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrah by assailing the diseased conditions in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alternative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrah. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Muc-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Revall Muc-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store,—The Rexall Store. The Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

How To Prevent Gray Hair.

When gray hairs first begin to appear prompt action should be taken to nourish the scalp and prevent their further spread. Regular brushing, massage of the scalp, and occasional shampooing help to prolong the vitality of the hair and preserve its natural color. But it is absolutely essential that these methods be assisted with some form of vital nourishment which the decaying roots of the hair can absorb. Numerous preparations for this purpose have appeared on the market during the past twenty years, but many of them have proved to be more harmful than otherwise. It is now agreed by competent authorities and those who have put it to the severest tests that HAY'S HAIR HEALTH is the safest and most effective preparation for restoring prematurely gray hair, and furnishing the right food to the scalp. Its constantly increasing sale and the fact that it has held its great popularity for nearly a quarter of a century is proof that this scientific preparation does the work to the entire satisfaction of users. All reliable druggists recommend it and sell it in 50 cent and dollar bottles, or it can be purchased from the manufacturer, Philo Hay Specialties Co., Newark, N. J., U. S. A. C. W. Milhous and A. J. Pellens.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAY 1, 1910

TWO SABBATH INCIDENTS. Lesson:—Matt. 12: 1-14.

GOLDEN TEXT:—I will have mercy and not sacrifice. Matt: 12:7.

"At that time," when these blind hypocritical Pharisees were specially diligent in rejecting Jesus as their Messiah, notwithstanding all His mighty works and gracious words, binding upon people heavy burdens, grievous to be borne, Jesus taught the weary burdened ones that in Him they would find rest. "At that time" (xi. 25; xii. 1), when these grace-doubters (as a missionary recently writing from China called these seventh day people) were making an idol of their Sabbath, while rejecting the Lord of the Sabbath who was in their midst, Jesus wrought these good works of our lesson today to teach them that in their midst was one greater than the temple, greater than Solomon, greater than Jonah (verses 6, 41, 42). When the kingdom comes the Lord alone shall be exalted, and all the loftiness and haughtiness of men shall be bowed down (Isa. ii. 11, 17). Earth's mighty ones shall then have learned that "those who walk in pride life is able to abase" (Dan. iv. 37).

As Jesus and His disciples walked through the cornfields on a Sabbath day His disciples plucked ears of corn and did eat, rubbing them in their hands (Luke vi. 1). Then the Pharisees accuse Him and His disciples as law-breakers, evil doers, transgressors. It seems horrible that men should accuse Him, because they were blinded by the god of this world, as are all today who talk against God and His word, and there are many. They pretended to be very zealous for the law, so He said: "Have ye not read what David did?" "Have ye not read in the law?" (Verses 3, 5.) Dr. Scofield says "Jesus' action is highly significant." "What David did" refers to the time of His rejection and persecution by Saul (I Sam. xxi. 6). Jesus here is not so much the rejected Saviour as the rejected King—hence the reference to David Jesus continually referred them to their own Scriptures: "Have ye never read?" "Did ye never read in the Scriptures?" (Matt. xi. 16, 42).

Note that the Lord Jesus had full confidence in the authority of Scripture, the law, the prophets and the Psalms (Luke xxiv. 27, 44). These Pharisees professed to believe the Scriptures also, yet they fulfilled them in condemning Him. On one occasion Jesus asked not only "What is written in the law?" but "How readest thou?" (Luke x. 26). We do well to consider whether we receive the Scriptures as they are in truth the word of God which effectually worketh in them that believe (I Thess. ii. 3). If we are wholly subject to God and to His word Jesus will not only be our Saviour, but our Lord, whom we will delight to obey, not in order that He may have mercy upon us, but because He has had mercy on us and we have learned something of the meaning of verse 7.

Even in the synagogue where the law, the prophets and the Psalms were read every Sabbath they sought to accuse Him who had given them these Scriptures and who had given to each of them life and breath and all things, yet He patiently bore with them and reasoned with them. He reminded them that they would not hesitate to save the life of a sheep, even on a Sabbath day, and asking, "How much then is a man better than a sheep?" He asserted, "It is lawful to do well on the Sabbath days." Commanding the man with the withered hand to "rise up and stand forth in the midst." He also commanded him to stretch forth his hand, which he did, and it was restored whole as the other (Luke vi. 8-11). Then were they filled with madness and went out and held a council against Him, how they might destroy Him. Thus they prepare to seal His doom, as they think, but they are in reality sealing their own and fulfilling the Scriptures, which said, "They rewarded Me evil for good." "They hated Me without a cause." "They that sit in the gate speak against Me." "Many bulls have compassed Me—strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round" (Ps. xxxv. 12; lxxix. 4, 12; xxii. 12).

The time had not come for them to carry out their murderous thoughts, so Jesus simply withdrew from them and continued to heal the multitudes who followed Him—many who had plagues pressing upon Him to touch Him and unclean spirits falling down before Him and crying, "Thou art the Son of God" (Mark iii. 7, 12). Our lesson chapter says that He healed them all, but charged them that they should not make Him known (15, 16), this also that the Scripture might be fulfilled as it is written in Isa. xlii. 1, 4. That we who are His witnesses may apply many Scriptures concerning Him, at least in some measure to ourselves, see in Acts xiii. 47, Paul's use of Isa. xlii. 6. That we are His chosen ones see John xv. 16; Eph. 1. 4; I Pet. ii. 9. That we are in the world as lights for Him see Matt. v. 14; Phil. ii. 15. That we may manifest His life let us ever behold Him as the perfect servant in whom the Father is well pleased and trust Him to fill us with His Spirit that we too may be well pleasing to Him, possessing the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

Indiana Democracy Adopts The Marshall Plan.

Attorney General—Thomas Honan, Seymour.
Clerk Supreme Court—J. Fred France, Huntington.

Judges Appellate Court, Southern District—Milton B. Hottel, Salem, and Edward W. Felt, Greenfield.

Indianapolis, April 29.—Despite his earnest declaration that he was not a candidate for the convention's indorsement for the United States senate, and over his protest against the use of his name in that connection, the Hon John W. Kern of Indianapolis was yesterday named by acclamation, and amid a scene of wild enthusiasm that has probably never been equalled in historic old Tomlinson hall, the Democratic party's choice to oppose the candidacy of Senator Albert J. Beveridge for re-election to the senate of the United States.

This indorsement came at the end of a trying contest in which some of the best men in the party in Indiana were pitted and the great demonstration which marked the solution of a proposition which had for weeks been vexing the Democracy of Indiana as has few questions in its history, seemed convincing to the mere observer that the various elements which had been divided on the proposition had gotten together on an entirely satisfactory basis.

Mr. Kern was not present to receive the plaudits of his party, having retired from the hall after telling the delegates that the use of his name in this connection had not been warranted by him, but the continued demonstration which attended the announcement of the vote on the senatorial question must have been balm for whatever of disappointment Mr. Kern had felt at the result of the legislative caucus which sent Ben Shively to the senate a year ago last January.

The Governor Wins Out.

Governor Marshall was also indorsed by the convention's acceptance of his proposition for the convention to name a candidate for the senate. Tom Taggart, if taken at his word—and all agreed that Mr. Taggart was sincere when he declared that he would rather see John Kern in the senate than to have a seat there himself—enjoyed his day of gratification, as did John Lamb, L. Ert Slack, Major Menzies, Joe Shea, Bob Miers, Dan Sims, Ed Becker, Ed Hoffman, John Adair and Sam Ralston, whose names had been presented for the senatorial indorsement, for in withdrawing in favor of Mr. Kern they each and all declared that party harmony and hope of success were dearer to them than any ambition for personal preferment. The delegates were pleased—their cheers indicated that—hence it was a day of good cheer all around for Indiana Democracy.

When the convention reconvened yesterday morning after having decided the night before to test out "the governor's proposition," the hall was packed as it has rarely been, and there was an air of the keenest expectancy over all. Under the rules the debate on the senatorial proposition was limited to forty-five minutes the side. Judge J. E. McCullough of Indianapolis led the discussion for the affirmative and was followed by Judge S. M. Ralston of Lebanon and Senator Shively for the negative, John E. Lamb of Terre Haute closing for the affirmative. When the latter debaters, in the course of his speech, linked the name of Crawford Fairbanks, a Terre Haute brewer, with that of Thomas Taggart he was greeted by a storm of hisses which for a time threatened to overwhelm him, and it was not until the storm of protest against the speaker's inference had spent itself that he was able to proceed. Mr. Lamb closed at 11 o'clock and a ballot was ordered on the proposition: "Shall the convention indorse a candidate for the United States senate?" The years carried the day by a vote of 883 1/2 to 858 1/2 and the convention rose in a veritable frenzy of applause. When Governor Marshall, as temporary chairman, then rose to introduce Senator Shively as permanent chairman the two leaders were given a really remarkable ovation. Senator Shively, in accepting the gavel, made no set speech, declaring that such was unnecessary, "there being no sinners here to be saved."

The Contest by Ballots.

The report of the committee on resolutions submitted by State Senator Stotsenberg of New Albany, was adopted and nominations for senatorial indorsement were made as follows: Major G. V. Menzies, R. W. Miers, Joseph H. Shea, L. Ert Slack, John E. Lamb, Thomas Taggart, John W. Kern, Edward V. Becker, Daniel W. Sims, Edward G. Hoffman, J. A. M. Adair and Samuel M. Ralston.

The first ballot resulted: Menzies, 154; Miers, 57; Shea, 138; Slack, 174; Lamb, 226; Taggart, 228; Kern, 303; Becker, 51; Sims, 100; Hoffman, 166; Adair, 133; Ralston, 9; necessary to a choice, 874. During the progress of this ballot Mr. Kern entered the hall and announced that his name had been entered in the race contrary to his express wish and order, but the declaration was greeted by a storm of "nos." The convention apparently could not see how Mr. Kern was going to be able to keep his name out of the list.

Second ballot: Menzies, 128; Miers, 83; Shea, 101; Slack, 157; Lamb, 204; Taggart, 14; Kern, 647; Becker, 47; Sims, 65; Hoffman, 139; Adair, 143; Ralston, 19. During the progress of this ballot Mr. Taggart personally announced the full Marion county vote for Mr. Kern, and from that moment the ultimate result was not in doubt.

Third ballot: Menzies, 144; Miers, 66; Lamb, 223; Kern, 772; Sims, 93; Adair, 147; Shea, 90; Slack, 210; Taggart, 11; Becker, 4; Hoffman, 5. When Marion county was reached on this ballot Mr. Taggart arose and, speaking for the delegation, announced that "as the old Taggart machine" is in the scrap pile today, Marion county casts her full 183 votes for John W. Kern." This started the stampede. The band played the Star Spangled Banner and the love feast was on. John E. Lamb started it before another ballot was called, by withdrawing in favor of Kern. The other candidates promptly followed suit, and at 3:10 Mr. Kern was by acclamation indorsed as the convention's candidate for the United States senate, this choice to be ratified by the legislature if the Democrats control that body.

The State Ticket.

There being no contest for the following officers, Lew Ellingham of Decatur was nominated by acclamation for secretary of state; William H. O'Brien of Lawrenceburg for auditor of state; Robert W. Ale for superintendent of public instruction, and Thomas Broley of North Vernon for statistician.

For treasurer the following names were presented: W. H. Vollmer of Vincennes; Charles M. Cooper, Indianapolis; B. T. Merrell, Crawfordsville.

First ballot: Vollmer, 659; Cooper, 538; Merrell, 550.

Second ballot: Vollmer, 751 1/2; Cooper, 506; Merrell, 489 1/2.

Third ballot: Vollmer, 881; Cooper, 491; Merrell, 375. And Mr. Vollmer was declared the nominee.

For attorney general the names of Thomas Honan of Seymour; Richard Milburn, Jasper, and Adam Wise of Plymouth were presented, the first ballot going 758 1/2 for Honan, 680 1/2 for Milburn, and 308 for Wise. Honan was nominated on the second ballot by a vote of 1,008 to Milburn's 647 and Wise's 95.

For clerk of the supreme court the names of Gilbert Hendren of Bloomfield; Andrew J. Behymer of Elwood, and J. Fred France of Huntington were presented. The first ballot went 602 1-3 for Hendren; 412 1-3 for Behymer, and 732 1-3 for France. On the second ballot France was nominated by a vote of 904 to Hendren's 628 1/2 and Behymer's 214 1/2.

For state geologist Edward Barrett of Plainfield was nominated over William M. Tucker of Osgood by a vote of 1,071 1/2 to 675 1/2.

For judge of the supreme court, Second district, Douglass Morris of Rushville was nominated over James R. Ewing of Greensburg by a vote of 1,317 to 430.

For judge of the supreme court, Third district, there were four names presented: Charles E. Cox, D. J. Hebron and Charles E. Barrett, all of Indianapolis, and William V. Rooker of Noblesville. Cox winning by a vote of 944 1/2 to 412 1/2 for Hebron, 261 1/2 for Barrett, and 128 for Rooker.

For judges of the appellate court for the northern district, four names were presented, three to be nominated, as follows: B. C. Moon of Kokomo; Joseph G. Ibach of Hammond; M. B. Lairy of Logansport, and Andrew A. Adams of Columbia City. Lairy received 1,622 votes; Adams, 1,555; Ibach, 1,292, and Moon 771, the three first named being declared the nominees of the convention.

THE PLATFORM OF INDIANA DEMOCRACY

Following is the report of the committee on resolutions made to the Democratic state convention and adopted without debate:

Mr. Chairman—Your committee on resolutions begs leave to make the following report and recommend the adoption of the following platform:

The representatives of the Democracy of the state of Indiana, in convention assembled, hereby adopt the following platform:

Democracy is a conservator of property. It defies alike both paternalism and communism. Its theory of government is that government is best which governs least. It is the friend of both labor and capital. It adds to the rewards of human endeavor by giving equal opportunities to all and special privileges to none. Democracy fixes no limits to honest accumulation of capital, but it denies that wealth and cunning, leagued together, may lawfully concentrate in a few hands.

TARIFF AND THE REPUBLICAN ATTITUDE.

We denounce the Payne-Aldrich tariff act as a masterpiece of injustice, involving remorseless exactions from the many to enrich the few, through the trusts and monopolies which it fosters. Tariff taxation, like other taxation, should be for public purposes only, and not for private profit; and should be so levied as not to discriminate against any section, class, industry or occupation, and limited to the actual necessities of the government, economically administered.

We condemn the cowardice of the Republican party in Indiana in failing to meet the issues in a fair and manly way; that in its endeavor to gain Democratic votes it has, on the tariff question, one proposition in its state platform and a different and opposing proposition in its several congressional platforms; that by indorsement it commends President Taft, who approved the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and in the same resolutions commends Senator Beveridge, who voted against the same measure, for his course in opposing such tariff law. President Taft has indorsed Cannon and relief may be expected from a party standing for Taft, Cannon, Aldrich and Beveridge all at the same time.

PENSIONS, INCOME TAX, SUBSIDIES.

We favor the immediate enactment of a pension law by congress providing for a pension of not less than one dollar a day for all Union veterans of the civil war.

We most heartily favor the ratification of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States authorizing congress to levy an income tax.

We are opposed to all subsidies by the government, and we especially condemn the present ship subsidy bill.

We are opposed to the indiscriminate use of the power of injunction by the courts without notice to the defendants and without a hearing, and we demand that the right of trial by jury, in proceedings arising out of indirect contempt of such injunctions, shall not be denied to a defendant in such cases.

We condemn the extravagant administration of the affairs of the nation by the Republican party.

CONSERVATION AND WATERWAYS.

We favor the conservation of our natural resources and demand the withdrawal from entry of our remaining timber, oil, coal and iron lands and water power sites. The Republican course of favoritism and the countenancing of fraud in relation to these matters have become a national scandal. The remnants of our resources should be preserved in the government for the benefit of the people. We favor the improvement of interior waterways and urge appropriations for such purpose.

SHIVELY AND MARSHALL.

We most heartily commend and indorse the Hon. Benjamin F. Shively, our senator, and our Democratic representatives in congress for their unflinching allegiance to the people, proving themselves to be their servants and worthy of their confidence.

We commend Governor Thomas R. Marshall for his unwavering fidelity to the principles of Democracy in the conduct of his office, his loyalty to the people at all times, and we heartily indorse his administration of the affairs of the state.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTING LAW.

We believe that the public accounting law, nonpartisan in conception and bipartisan in enactment and administration, has accomplished and will continue to accomplish great good for both taxpayers and public officials of Indiana; and we pledge the Democratic party to its maintenance and its improvement whenever improvement may be shown by experience to be necessary or beneficial.

We favor the enactment of such laws as will provide for the construction and maintenance of our free turnpikes, in a more economical manner.

To insure honest elections, we favor the enactment of a general registration law.

LABOR LAWS.

We are in favor of the strengthening of the laws of our state with reference to child labor and the sanitary condition of workshops.

We favor the enactment of a weekly wage law in manufacturing and mining pursuits; a more rigid enforcement of the factory inspection laws; the enactment of a law under which the state inspector of mines shall be appointed by the governor on the recommendation of the United Mine Workers' association and the Indiana Coal Operators' association of the state; the enactment of a co-employees' liability law, which will justify and adequately protect labor; the enactment of a law providing for the submission to arbitration of all disputes between capital and labor; and a law which will shorten the hours of labor. We declare for the enactment and enforcement of such laws as will prevent any competition between the product of labor in our penal institutions and the product of free labor.

LIQUOR QUESTION.

The Democratic party has always advocated the largest measure of liberty to the individual citizen consistent with the public good. It still recognizes and believes in the old Democratic principle of local self-government. We recognize the rights of the people of the state to settle the question as to whether intoxicating liquors shall be sold in their respective communities, and to that end we favor the amendment and modification of the present local option law so as to make incorporated cities, towns and villages, and the territory in townships outside of such cities the units of election; but such amendment and modification shall be so drawn as not to affect and to preserve the remonstrance laws of the state; provided that territory voted dry under the present option law shall remain dry for two years from the date of such election.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

We favor an amendment to the constitution of the United States providing for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people.

We are opposed to the creation and continuance of useless and unnecessary offices and boards, and we favor the consolidation of the offices of labor commissioner and factory inspector into one department, to be known as the department of labor.

Resolved, That the rooster shall be adopted as the emblem of the Democratic party in Indiana.

ROAD TO HAPPINESS LED THEM TO DEATH

Tennessee Couple Die For Illicit Love.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 29.—"We die from love. God forgive us. It was the only road to happiness."

So read a note, signed by both, found beside the bodies of Mrs. Charles Slocum, thirty-six years old, attractive looking and the mother of four children, and William Crabtree, aged nineteen, a popular youth. The note was pinned over the woman's heart. Mrs. Slocum and her husband, a prosperous farmer, separated a few days ago when Slocum learned that his wife was in love with the boy.

Mrs. Slocum rented a cottage and neighbors saw young Crabtree enter. Soon after one of them, a woman, went to call on Mrs. Slocum. On the floor was the body of Crabtree. Across him, with one arm clasping him to her bosom, was the woman from whose cut throat blood was flowing. Two half-empty glasses containing strychnine stood near by. In the adjoining room the four little Slocum children were playing with a toy train.

A TOWER OF STRENGTH

It is Thus That Mr. Bryan Regards His Recent Running Mate.

Lincoln, Neb., April 29.—Commenting on the result in the Indiana state convention, Mr. Bryan said: "I am very glad to learn of Governor Marshall's victory on the matter of nominating a senator. He made a brave fight and the whole country will applaud him for the courage he has shown."

"Mr. Kern's nomination is excellent. While there are many good Democrats in the state of Indiana, there is none better than Kern. He will be a tower of strength to our party in the senate." The Bryan influence will be thrown with Marshall in the contest.

Old General Seriously Injured.

Washington, April 29.—General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, who was thrown from his horse while riding on the speedway in Potomac park, is not injured as seriously as was feared at first. Two ribs were fractured, but otherwise he is practically unhurt. His physicians say that he is resting comfortably and that he had come out of the accident very fortunately for a man seventy-one years old.

Suicide of a Vassar Girl.

Andover, Mass., April 29.—Miss Ada Brooks, daughter of Edward Brooks, an artist of repute, shot herself at the residence of her father and died almost instantly. Miss Brooks was a student at Vassar college, and returned home about six weeks ago because of ill health, due, it is believed, to overstudy.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Mr. Bryan thinks Roosevelt will return an insurgent.

Henry S. Robbins, counsel for the Chicago board of trade, has been retained by the government as special counsel in the bucket shop cases.

For the first time in ten years the unorganized employes of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe lines in Louisiana, Texas and Oklahoma are to receive an advance in wages.

The Postal Telegraph Cable company announces that in June it will make substantial increases in the wages of its telegraphers in all important offices of its system.

The scarcity of food and the taking of the census has caused rioting in the provinces of Huan, Chekiang and Kiangsu, China.

St. Paul, Minn., has been selected as the place for holding the National Conservation congress this year.

The home friends of Thomas M. Honan, regardless of party, congratulate him on the honor conferred on him by the democratic state convention in nominating him for attorney-general.

No man is more accustomed to defeat than John W. Kern. It has been the habit of the Indiana democrats to confer on him any empty honors it had to give out and now when Taggart and his crowd sees nothing but defeat ahead
they again put Kern up for slaughter.

Boss Taggart says he has been for Kern all the time and that Kern has known it for weeks. He claims the credit for Kern's nomination and says he has been working to that end from the beginning. If he tells the truth he has deceived Judge Shea and all the other men who tried to overthrow the will of Governor Marshall. We have Taggart's word for it that he has been playing double and that Kern was a silent party to the double dealing. We have it from Taggart himself that Kern is responsible to him for his nomination and it is therefore presumed Kern will do Taggart's bidding from now on.

Taggart wants it understood that he is to continue on the job as boss of the Indiana democracy and that he and Kern have a perfect understanding. But the great mass of the people of Indiana are opposed to Taggart and his dark lantern methods and will not tie up to Kern who is so firmly hitched on to Taggart.

a six inning game Thursday afternoon on the cooper shop diamond. The Big Six was strengthened by a few picked men from the famous Cuba Corners. It was a hard fought battle and resulted in a victory of 6 to 3 in favor of Laurel street. Lawrence Horning and Holland Eudaly were the battery for the victors.
Clarence Brown and Jesse Pea-

over the Third ward substituting a professional pitcher but he was not able to step in at the ninth hour and win the

THE SECRETS OF "HIGH FINANCE"

Heinze Trial Likely To Bring
Some of Them Out.

A QUESTION OF AUTHORITY

Progress of the Heinze Trial Makes It Apparent That Indicted Banker Is Seeking a Way to Disclaim Responsibility For the Condition of the Wrecked Mercantile National Bank
of New York.

New York, April 29.—That it is the purpose of F. Augustus Heinze, on trial in the United States circuit court for misapplying the funds of the Mercantile National bank, to put it up to Miles M. O'Brien, who was first vice president of the bank when the various Heinze loans were made in 1907, has become increasingly evident as the trial proceeds. In his cross-examination of the first important witness, Emil Klein, the cashier, John B.
Stanchfield of counsel of Heinze, got
Mr. Klein to say that Mr. O'Brien virtually managed the bank and got his salary boosted from $12,000 to $25,000
when Heinze came in and refused to take any salary as president. Mr.
O'Brien was not present when Mr.
Stanchfield was putting questions to the witness, but he came in afterward.
It was said that he was prepared to dispute the contention of the defense
and would get the opportunity later.

Still another point of the defense was brought out when Mr. Stanchfield showed that on Oct. 16, two days after F. A. Heinze had got $500,000 from the bank on an unsecured note which he turned over to his brother's firm, over $2,000,000 in collateral, mainly Copper stocks, was turned over to the bank. In these two days the Heinze pool in United Copper had collapsed.
On the 17th occurred the elimination of the Heinzes from the bank following an examination by the clearing house committee. Apparently it will be the contention of the defense that he had amply protected the bank, though just what influences operated to bring forth the collateral did not come out.

WILL WAIT FOR HIM

George Coleman's Fiance Announces
She Will Stick to Him.

Boston, April 29.—Miss Mamie Hightower of Kansas City, the fiancee of George W. Coleman, charged with loot-ing the City National bank of Cambridge, in an interview declared that Coleman alone was to blame for the wrecking of the bank.

"I don't seek notoriety," she said,
"but certain things must be straightened out. Now, for instance, the yarn about my quitting George for good when he gets his sentence. That is a falsehood. When George goes to Atlanta, which, of course he must do, I will go to my old home in Kansas City.
True, I have made no plans for the future, but one thing is certain. I will wait for George and marry him when he serves his sentence. He has told me many times that he was the only one concerned in robbing the bank. I believe everything he says, and I know that in this particular he is telling me
the truth."

DIDN'T CATCH THEM

Kentucky Millionaire Follows Daughter Who Eloped With Poor Clerk.

Evansville, Ind., April 29.—Forest
Miller, a poor clerk of Owensboro, Ky., and Miss Bessie Morgan, aged eighteen, an heiress and daughter of a millionaire of that city, eloped to this city and were married. The father of the girl pursued the elopers, but lost track of them when they crossed the Ohio river. He went to Jeffersonville, thinking they had gone there. The bride's twin sister recently married Jack M. Barrett, a cigar salesman of San Francisco, who, when she deserted him, sued her father for alienating her affections, but finally agreed to give her a divorce for money.

Militia Protected Prisoner.

Thomasville, Ga., April 29.—After narrowly escaping death at the hands of infuriated crowds, which were kept from securing the prisoner by a company of militia which wounded four men with bayonets to protect their charge, Howard Harris, a negro, confessed to assaulting Mrs. McMillan Dutton and was sentenced to be hanged May 20. The jury was out only one minute.

The Roosevelts in Brussels.

Brussels, April 29.—The transition of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt from the capital of France to the capital of Belgium proved that the European countries are trying to outdo one another in the enthusiasm of their reception of him. The Roosevelts were received here with tumultuous acclaim.

Now Up to the King.

London, April 29.—In a single sitting without opposition, the house of lords passed the budget bill, their first rejection of which led to the recent general election. The bill now only awaits the king's signature to become law. The royal approval will be given as a matter of course.

One of the big league baseball teams

city this morning on a Pennsylvania train en route to Louisville where they will play ball this afternoon.

careful consideration they decided to David B. Robertson left last night by way of Chicago, for Pierre, South Dakota on a prospecting tour. Mrs. Rob-and Mr. Robertson expects to be away

Prof. W. L. Gross, of of Clark county's most successful public school teachers, entered the Seymour Business College last week. Mr. Gross is preparing himself for a teacher of commercial subjects.

Frank Branaman, of Brownstown, returned from Indianapolis this morning,
where he was a delegate to the State convention. He was also the representative of the Fourth Congressional District on the Resolutions committee.

A copy of the Coffeyville (Kans.)
Daily Herald states that Willard Miller, formerly of Seymour, is in that city representing the White Mexican Topaz Company. The paper states that Mr.
Miller is having much success in this line of work.

DISPATCHING BY TELEPHONE.

In Railway Service Proving to be Very Successful.

Dispatching trains by telephone on the Lehigh Valley Railroad has proved, according to a report just submitted to the General Manager of the Company, a thorough and positive success in every sense of the word. The new system, now in operation on about 150 miles, is to be extended rapidly.

The defects in the working of the telephonic apparatus have been slight compared to those that are common with the telegraphic system. It is found, for example, that a crossing of wires which would put a stop to communication by telegraph, hardly ever interferes with telephone talk between stations.

Two special features have contributed to the Lehigh Valley's success with telephones; one is a storage battery, that affords a constant voltage for selector
work; and the other is the swinging "arm," which makes it necessary for every operator to talk directly into the transmitter. Further improvements are to be put into effect with the extension of the service.

As a result of the Company's success in the use of the telephone, several of the most important railroads in the country have sent letters requesting complete information about the details of the system.

Commencement Tonight.

The commencement exercises of the Brownstown High School will be held at the courthouse this evening at eight o'clock. There will be seventeen graduates, the largest class ever graduated from the schools at that place, and this fact will doubtless insure a large attendance. The program will be instructive as well as entertaining. Rev. Charles W. Whitman, of Indianapolis, who will deliver the class address, has been highly recommended as a public speaker.
Excellent music will be furnished by the Mountain Bros. orchestra. The subject of Rev. Whitman's address will be "The Call of the Modern Scholar."

UNCLE SAM GREATEST BUILDER.

He Owns $300,000,000 Worth of Property and is His Own Insurance Co.

The United States Government is the greatest builder in the country. It owns buildings worth more than $3,000,- 000,000 and spends $20,000,000 a year
on new ones.

The Government carries no insurance on its property—that is, it acts as its owns insurance company. It safeguards itself against loss by erecting buildings that won't burn. If it carried insurance the premiums would amount to $500,000 a year; as it is the yearly fire loss is only $10,000.

The Geographical Survey has carried on elaborate tests of all sorts of materials and has determined which resist fire most successfully. As a consequence of these tests, in recent years
the Government has made its large buildings safe from fire by the use of hollow terra cotta tile in floors, partitions and column-covering. This tile is the same kind that is used in the large and newest "skyscrapers" in New York City.

The new postoffice at Chicago is one of the most recent instances of this thorough fire-proof construction. Another is the War College in Washington. In the same way the Congressional Library, the Marine Barracks, the Corcoran Art Gallery, the Bureau of American Republics, the Pension Office and many other government structures are made practically indestructible by fire.
The Federal authorities are making it a policy, throughout the country, to protect the steel frames of public buildings with the burned clay fire-proofing material.

MISSING WORD CONTEST.

Everybody Trying to Find the Omitted
Word.

Everybody is reading the Business Directory in the Republican trying to locate the missing words, which are being omitted in the missing word contest. Six words will be omitted this week. They are easy to find, as no catch words are left from the advertisements. Beginning today a dash (—) will indicate where the words are omitted. This will make the contest easier, as all the contestants will have to do is to supply the correct word.

Read the ads carefully today and Saturday. On Monday between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock file your answer on the form published at the bottom of the Business Directory. While you are reading the advertisements for the missing word note what the merchants have to offer. You will find some bargains that you cannot afford to overlook.

The Power of Paderewski.

A hard-headed business man went a year or so ago to hear Paderewski play, says A. E. Thomas in "Success Magazine." The man is not a musician.
He spends his days trying to buy cotton when it is low and sells it when it is high. This is how he describes his experiences at the piano recital.

"You know, I'm not easily stirred up and I wouldn't know whether a man
was playing the piano extremely well, or just fairly well. But I do know that Paderewski played one thing that afternoon that stirred me up as I never was stirred up in my life. I don't remember what it was. I couldn't have told whether he was playing an hour or five minutes. All I know is that it stirred up feelings within me that I had never felt before. Great waves of emotion swept over me. I wanted to shout and I wanted to cry, and when the last chord was struck I found myself on my feet waving my umbrella and shouting like a wild Indian. I went out of that hall as weak as a rag and happier than I'd been in years. I can't account for
it. I've tried, but I can't explain it.
Can you?"

COUNCIL MEETING.

Light Franchise Placed on First Read-

The city council met in regular ses-

members present except Councilman Davison.

The only business transacted was the reading of the light franchise which will be granted to C. E. Layton and associates. The law provides that the franchise shall be read at regular council meetings and it was deemed advisable to start the franchise at the regular meeting last night.

Immediately after the franchise was read council adjourned so the members could attend the commencement exercises. A special session will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Hold Conference Here Regarding Proposed Improvements.

F. J. Kron, of Louisville, division superintendent of the Pennsylvania, Trainmaster N. C. Bennett, of the same road, and Will E. Becker, of Terre Haute, superintendent of the Southern Indiana, were in consultation here Thursday. It is understood that the business considered was the raising of the tracks at the crossing in the north part of the city and the placing of a watch tower at that place. There seems little doubt but that these improvements will be made as was stated a few weeks ago. A large force of men has been at work for some time raising the Pennsylvania track from the junction with the Southern Indiana at Eighth street north to the curve near the Country Club grounds. The track for that distance has been raised all the way from a few inches up to two or three feet. It is supposed that the Southern Indiana will make arrangements at once to raise their tracks at the crossing along with the Pennsylvania, in order to keep up with the grade.

TWO OFFICIAL DELEGATES

Seymour Honored by Two Appointments for World's S. S. Convention.

Of the sixty-six official delegates who will represent Indiana at the World's Sunday School Convention at Washington, D. C., May 19-24, Seymour is very fortunate in having two representatives in the delegation. Mrs. M. C. Carpenter, superintendent of the Home Department of the First Baptist Sunday School, and Mrs. M. E. Baker, superintendent of the Woodstock Sunday School, have been appointed as official Indiana delegates and will attend the convention.

The Indiana delegation will have a special car and will lodge together while at Washington. The World's Convention meets every three years, having been held in Rome in 1907. The World's president, Rev. F. B. Meyer, of London, England, has been in this country the past two months making a tour of the state conventions. He was one of the best speakers at the Indiana Convention this week. The convention at Washington next month promises to be the greatest Sunday School gathering ever held in America, or in the world.

NOTICE.

Dr. H. T. Sherwood will locate in Indianapolis in the near future; therefore, if you are thinking of taking treatment of him for Piles, Rupture, Gout, Catarrh, Rheumatism, or any chronic disease, you had better do so while he is yet in Seymour.

I will open Saturday, April 30, at Diener's old stand, 302 South Chestnut street, a soft drink parlor. Will keep a full line of tobacco, cigars, ice cream, fruits of all kinds, and soft drinks. Open day and night.

S.S.S. CURES OLD BLOOD TROUBLES

The only possible way to cure Contagious Blood poison is to remove the cause by purifying the blood. This is just what S. S. S. does; and it is the only medicine that absolutely and thoroughly cleanses the circulation of every particle of the germs and virus of the disease. Mercury, Potash, and other strong minerals are often used in the hope that such powerful treatment will kill the germs, but this can not be done, and when the mineral medicines are left off the trouble always returns with its aggravating symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, skin eruptions, falling hair, yellow skin spots, swollen glands, and often running sores. The ability of S. S. S. to cure Contagious Blood Poison comes from its unflinching blood-purifying properties. It goes into the circulation and removes every trace of the infection, makes the blood rich and healthy, and leaves no dregs of the virus to break out later on. S. S. S. does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks each of which has a direct and specific action in cleansing the blood. In addition it contains the extracts of certain botanical herbs which make it the finest of all tonics, which is a necessary quality for a medicine in curing Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment book, containing much valuable information and instruction to be found nowhere else, will be sent sealed and post paid, free to all who write and request it.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

Springfield Planning to Entertain Confederate Veterans.

Springfield, Ill., April 29.—A national reunion of the blue and the gray will be held in this city, the home of Abraham Lincoln, and where his mortal remains rest, next year, if the plans of Mayor Schnepf and the chamber of commerce do not miscarry. A telegram has been sent to the United Confederate Veterans in convention assembled at Mobile, inviting them to hold their next annual reunion in this city, and a telegram was sent to former Governor Samuel R. VanSant of Minnesota, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, inviting the Grand Army to meet in Springfield at the same time that the Confederates do if the latter accept.

Marched Beneath Old Flags.

Mobile, Ala., April 29.—With halting steps and trembling limbs, gray-bearded and feeble, with eyes in which the fire of youth had been dimmed by the none too gentle passing years, but with hearts full of pride and joy, 15,000 veteran soldiers of the Confederacy marched yesterday beneath the battle-scarred flags which they followed in the sixties, shoulder to shoulder with comrades who endured together the hardships of war. The strains of "Dixie" were played by two score bands.

HOUSE AGAIN IN A FLURRY

Over An Amendment To The Railroad Bill.

LEADERS COUNTING NOSES

Amendment Introduced by Georgia Representative Declaring Telegraph and Telephone Companies Common Carriers Has Been Incorporated Into One of the Administration's Pet Measures.

Washington, April 29.—In an amendment incorporated in the administration railroad bill by the house, telegraph and telephone companies are declared to be common carriers and as such subject to control by the federal government. The adoption of the amendment by a substantial majority was a shock to the leaders and marked the most radical change that has been made in the measure by either the house or the senate. While the action is not final, it is indicative of feeling on the subject in the house, and the leaders fear that the amendment will carry when a record vote is taken on it upon the final passage of the bill.

A lively debate marked the effort to throw the cloak of the interstate commerce law over the operations of telegraph and telephone companies. It was disclosed that many Republicans, among them Representative Mann of Illinois, chairman of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, who is in charge of the pending bill, believe in government regulation of the agencies of wire transmission, but it was suggested that such a provision should not be incorporated in the railroad measure. "The two services are totally dissimilar," said Chairman Mann, "and they should be treated in separate bills."

The amendment was offered by Representative Bartlett of Georgia. It was supported in speeches by a number of Democrats and opposed by Republicans on grounds of expediency, the latter agreeing with Chairman Mann that if the telegraph and telephone companies were to be brought under federal control, a special law should be passed for the purpose.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 109 to 76. The leaders are uncertain as to its fate by reason of the fact that it was carried by a mixed combination of regulars and insurgents and the Democratic minority, and those in charge of the bill are counting noses.

Pittsburg, April 29.—Standing beside the coffin of her husband, Mrs. Isabella Rogers of 324 Princeton place sent a bullet through her own head, falling dead on the coffin, and a compact entered into by the two school children years ago had been fulfilled. It was known to all friends of the family that the couple when children were chums and lovers. One day they each publicly promised each other in the presence of friends that they would get married when they grew up and live and die together. The man on his deathbed asked friends to prevent his wife from making good a childish boast that they together had made. MET HORRID DEATH

Five Members of Crew of the Steamer Elba Boiled Alive.

New Orleans, April 29.—Five members of the crew of the Morgan line steamship Elba, bound from Galveston to New York with a cargo of onions, met their death in a most horrible manner last Saturday while the ship was in the Gulf of Mexico, twenty-three hours out from the Texas port. The main steam-pipe in the boiler-room of the freighter burst and a great stream of scalding vapor was sent out, enveloping the compartment and literally boiling the unfortunates. The big vessel was crippled by the accident and for several days was helpless in the waters of the Mexican gulf. Her condition was learned here through the wireless to send relief to the Elba. Although she was helpless she was at no time in danger.

AFTER SUFFERING ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. EMMA IMSE, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

Rev. D. K. Pond filled his regular appointment here Sunday. Lloyd Wray is back from Oklahoma, having only remained away a few days. Sunday School was organized Sunday, with officers as follows: Superintendent, Perry Maples; assistant superintendent, John Alexander; secretary, Lora Wray; treasurer, Seymour Charles. Little Loren Lockman, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lockman, is quite sick with whooping cough.

"Uncle" John Cummings and "Uncle" Bob Owen remain about the same. Goldie Fish, of Bedford, attended the funeral of her brother, Raymond, here last Wednesday.

ECLIPSE.

Raymond Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fish, was born February 12, 1907, and departed this life April 19, 1910, aged three years, two months and seven days. Little Raymond had always been a strong, hearty child until a few months ago, when he was stricken with paralysis of the brain, from which he never fully recovered.

On the day of his death he seemed as well as usual. He ate his noon meal and enjoyed himself at play for some time afterward. Then, as was his custom, he lay down to sleep, from which he never awoke to consciousness. The deceased leaves a father, step-mother, two brothers and two half-sisters to mourn his departure.

OPPORTUNITY

Success depends largely upon two things, first, opportunity, and second, taking advantage of the opportunity when it is given. A noted capitalist has said wealth is accrued by buying when the best opportunity is offered. The successful merchant tells the public of the opportunities he has to offer, and the successful buyer takes advantage of them. Opportunities are now being given by the merchants of Seymour. Their spring stocks of goods are on display and the prices are such that no successful buyer can well overlook them. The merchants are displaying goods which will interest all buyers. Opportunity is now knocking at your door. Advantages await the buyers. Now is the time to take advantage of them.
